

For Immediate Release
June 24, 2010

Contact: Dan Lagiovane
412-253-9409

EverPower Wind Holdings, Inc. elects George R. Henderson to its Board of Directors

New York, NY – EverPower Wind Holdings, Inc., a Terra Firma Company, announced the election of George R. Henderson to the company’s Board of Directors. Mr. Henderson currently serves as EverPower’s chief commercial officer.

“George has significant experience in markets that are core to EverPower, which will make him a valuable addition to our Board of Directors,” said EverPower president and CEO Jim Spencer. “We look forward to his many contributions and know his insights and experience will be invaluable as we continue to build out our development pipeline.”

“We are extremely pleased to welcome George to EverPower’s Board of Directors,” said Damian Darragh, managing director of Terra Firma.” His judgment and talents will be a welcome addition to our Board.”

As chief commercial officer of EverPower, Mr. Henderson is responsible for all commercial activities, including marketing, origination and trading of energy and environmental attributes associated with EverPower’s generation facilities in the United States. He joined the company in April, 2010 from PSEG Energy Resources and Trade LLC.

Notes to Editor:

George Henderson

Prior to joining EverPower, Mr. Henderson served as managing director of energy and marketing and origination at PSEG Energy Resources and Trade LLC. In that capacity, he was responsible for the marketing and origination activities associated with PSEG Power’s merchant generation portfolios in ERCOT, PJM, New York and New England. Prior to that, Mr. Henderson was also responsible for physical energy trading and fuel supply for the merchant generation business. Prior to PSEG, Mr. Henderson served as vice president of energy sales and origination at Lehman Brothers Commodity Services in New York. He resides in Sea Bright, NJ.

- More -

Mr. Henderson holds a BS in Marine Transportation from the United States Merchant Marine Academy, a MS from Northwestern University and additional degree from Harvard University's Program for Management Development.

EverPower Wind Holdings, Inc.

EverPower Wind Holdings, Inc., owns and operated large-scale wind farms and sells electricity generated from its wind farms to local utilities. Headquartered in New York City, EverPower has offices in Pittsburgh and Portland, Oregon and is developing wind farms in several locations throughout the United States. For more information, please visit www.everpower.com.

Terra Firma

Terra Firma is a unique private equity firm. It has the diverse expertise of more than 70 in-house investment professionals who have repeatedly enabled hidden value to be unlocked from investments. Through strategic change, sustained investment and improved management, Terra Firma nurtures its portfolio businesses to a higher level of performance.

Terra Firma aims to be the leading contrarian investment firm, responsibly delivering superior returns over the long term. Since 1994, Terra Firma has invested approximately €11 billion of equity and completed transactions with an aggregate enterprise value of €42 billion. Further information can be found at www.terrafirma.com.

#